Our Use of Cookies and Your Options

What are cookies?

When we provide services, we want to make them easy, useful and reliable. Where services are delivered on the internet, this sometimes involves placing small amounts of information on your device, for example, your computer or mobile phone. These include small files known as cookies. They cannot be used to identify you personally.

These pieces of information are used to improve services for you through, for example:

- Recognising that you may already have given a username and password, so you do not need to do it for every web page requested.
- Measuring how many people are using services, so they can be made easier to use and there is enough capacity to ensure they are fast.
- Analysing anonymised data to help us understand how people interact with our services so that we can make them better.

How to manage cookies

- Learn how to remove cookies set on your device.

There are two types of cookie you may encounter when using our website:

First party cookies: these are our own cookies, controlled by us and used to provide information about usage of our site. Here are some examples of first party cookies that you may encounter on our site:

Cookie Name	Purpose	Details	Cookie Lifespan	Domain
_ga	Analytics	Google Analytics	1 year	.brieflymacro.com
_ga_NXWJNC87B6	Analytics	Google Analytics	1 year	.brieflymacro.com

Third party cookies: these are cookies found in other companies' internet tools which we are using to enhance our site, for example Facebook or Twitter have their own cookies, which are controlled by them.

We use services from Adobe to help to bring you a better user experience. They collect information, details of which can be found on their website here.

To bring you real-time financial data, we use services from TradingView, who also sets cookies on pages that use their services. See their cookie policy here.

How to control and delete cookies

We will not use cookies to collect personally identifiable information about you.

However, if you wish to restrict or block the cookies which are set by our website, or indeed any other website, you can do this through your browser settings. The 'Help' function within your browser should tell you how.

Alternatively, you may wish to visit https://www.aboutcookies.org which contains comprehensive information on how to do this on a wide variety of browsers. You will also find details on how to delete cookies from your machine as well as more general information about cookies.

Please be aware that restricting cookies may impact on the functionality of our website.

If you wish to view your cookie code, just click on a cookie to open it. You will see a short string of text and numbers. The numbers are your identification card, which can only be seen by the server that gave you the cookie.

For information on how to do this on the browser of your mobile phone you will need to refer to your handset manual.

To opt-out of third parties collecting any data regarding your interaction on our website, please refer to their websites for further information.

If you require any more information about our use of cookies on this website, please e-mail support@brieflymacro.com.
